ABOUT DJ BLISS

DJ Bliss, born Marwan Al Awadhi, is a pioneering figure in Middle Eastern music and nightlife. Growing up as the middle child in a family of five, he embarked on his DJing journey in the late 90s without prior experience, starting with a gig at a theme park. Through dedication and practice, he quickly rose to fame, winning the 'Palm DJ of the Year' award and performing at London's Ministry of Sound. In the early 2000s, he became a prominent TV host on Dubai One's 'That's Entertainment,' solidifying his status as a top DJ and host in the UAE.

He founded 'Bliss Inc Entertainment,' a key player in the UAE's music industry. Bliss has performed at major festivals and events worldwide alongside stars like Drake, Beyonce, and Swedish House Mafia. In 2022, he gained global recognition on Netflix's "Dubai Bling." His recent hits, including "Hala Walla" with Shaggy and "Yalla Africa," received critical acclaim, with more music releases planned for 2023 and 2024. Known for his energetic and captivating live performances, DJ Bliss stands out as a master of stage presence and crowd engagement.
